We acknowledge the traditional custodians of this land, the Jinibara and the Gubbi Gubbi people and their care of it for thousands of years. Open to the Spirit who has ever been present here, we resolve to appreciate its beauty, to be wise stewards of its resources, and to honour the connection the Jinibara and the Gubbi Gubbi people have with this land.

REFLECTIONS: - Fr Paul

REFLECTION 12

Well sometimes, when the morning alarm bell has woken you and you've slept on further and now the sleep button has gone as well and it is well beyond time to get up! It's time to wake up, wash or shower, brush your teeth, get dressed, maybe make the bed and get on and up: get out there! Don't worry, there may be breakfast. There may be your favourite coffee. There will be lunch probably and supper or dinner later on, and your favourite something on the tv that'll get you through the day: and family and friends to meet up with, before you can, perhaps now a little reluctantly, go back to bed! But for now it's time to stop dreaming and face the day: face reality!

And the congregation discussion conference this Sunday is planned to do just exactly that. There will be people with very diverse opinions. There will be what appear to be absolutely polarised opinions. There will be some who tell you, you have to do this, or that, but we can't because of X, W or Z and this is all true. In fact over the past few months I have heard experts in their own profession contradict what they have just said. But, if you give me a little chance I believe there is a way through. It is complex. And there is no cheap way out. Instinct told me last year that there are issues and complex problems to be wrestled with. I couldn't have guessed exactly what they were, but the silence about fundamental questions about the recent history of the parish over the past 'decade' and more recent years weren't explained in the profiles, information or discussions. I knew I was walking into some issues. As a new-comer and an outsider with a detached, but interested eye. I can add a little light to it, perhaps unravel some of it. But upon my acceptance and arrival here there are some critical issues which have been left unanswered and unattended. (Not for the lack of people trying). It is not necessarily 'your' fault! There are circumstantial, and some institutional issues. I feel just a little bit like David and Goliath. Also, as a new incomer from a distant land I don't even have the customary protection or canonical rights of a rector. In others words I don't even have a sling, or the pebbles to deafest the giant problems we face. In fact, to a certain degree I feel I am being setup as the sacrificial lamb, to mix up all the available clichés! I am going to be caught between parish division. I am going to be caught between diocesan politics and divisions. But that is alright. I have been here before. My priority, as your priest is to lead you 'out of the desert'. I believe there is a 'promised land' to which we can look forward. The problems and issues before us are, as described, insurmountable. Several people are going to tell us so. But the future agenda is not as one tracked as it may appear. So, our 'Job' is to keep faith. Let us explore through the issue to seek for the answer: the future.

A walkabout through my dreaming thoughts: Dream M

Aura! Perhaps the most obvious thing to do would be to create a new Anglican School with a chapel that can double as an parish church. But that is a huge financial project well beyond, I suspect, the diocese and province. Would it be possible to create partnerships with other denominations and industries? And it is a timely decision. If we take too long other institutions, not least of all the government will have provided education to the area. In the meantime, should we rent a shop unit? Should we work ecumenically? Should we try to establish house groups? Should we be trying to establish an independent congregation, or a mission congregation dependant upon Caloundra and Glasshouse Country?
