PARISH VISION: Our Parish seeks to do justice, love kindness and walk humbly with our God.

MISSION STATEMENT: To share our Christian faith and values in love with one another; connecting the love of God with our community.

Jeremiah 8:22-9:3; Psalm 145:10-18; 2 Timothy 4.9-17a; Luke 10:1-9

THE SENTENCE

The harvest is plentiful, but the labourers are few; ask therefore the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into his harvest. Luke 10:2

Today we celebrate the feast of St Luke, whom we suppose to be the author of the third Gospel and of the Acts of the Apostles. He was a native of Antioch in Syria and a physician, and one of the early converts to Christianity from paganism. He accompanied St. Paul on a considerable part of his missionary journey. He was also Paul's companion while in prison at Rome on two different occasions.

COLLECT

*Almighty God,
who inspired your servant Luke the physician
to set forth in his gospel
the love and healing power of your Son:
graciously continue in your Church
this love and power to heal,
to the praise and glory of your name;
through Jesus Christ our Lord,
who lives and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God,
now and for ever. Amen.

LECTIONARY COMMENTARY

Luke 10:1-9

St Luke was not one of the Twelve Apostles. Nor was he, we think, one of the seventy described in today's Gospel reading, and probably just as well when one reads what they had to contend with. Jesus' instructions are vivid, austere, and demanding.

"Go. I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. Do not take a purse or bag or sandals; and do not greet anyone on the road."

Why no equipment? In Mark's gospel the twelve are sent out with a staff, and some sandals too. Perhaps Jesus didn't want his followers to look like cynics . . . I don't mean the sort of person whose state of mind is characterised by a general distrust of others' motives (or as we like to call them in the Anglican Church, clergy); I mean the wandering philosophers of Jesus' day, who were as snappy and snarly as the dogs of the street, and so were named after them, 'kunikoi,' Greek for dog-like. They carried staffs, and begging bags, and were pretty exploitative, so we're told.

Perhaps. Or perhaps Jesus was reminding his followers that their task was sacred – in the Mishnah, an early authoritative commentary on the Hebrew Scriptures, we find a prohibition which states that nobody should walk with a staff, or sandals, or bag in the temple because of the holiness of the place.

Perhaps again. Or perhaps it's something to do with the Passover. Or with vulnerability – after all, it's hard to make a getaway when both unarmed and shoeless.

We could go on having fun with these varying interpretations – but I think that there is one obvious, applicable, sensible interpretation that you and I can draw for our own lives. And it's an obvious, applicable, sensible interpretation that has a special relevance for church people, and our parish in particular. It is this:

We are not an institution. We are a movement. A missionary movement. And to be effective in mission, we must be free.

QUEENSLAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

For many years supporters of the QSO have been travelling to Brisbane for breathtaking musical experiences. During 2020 many of the 10 Maestro series of Concerts were cancelled. This year we changed to Friday Morning Masterworks series and so far...cross fingers....4 out of 5 concerts attended. I have two spare tickets for 22nd October....let me know if you are interested. Also...consider joining us for the Friday concerts in 2023. Travel is by comfortable coaches and many firm friendships have been formed on these outings.
